Beyond PFAS Pesticides Summit | 11-12 November 2026 | Copenhagen, Denmark

Join the effort to rethink European crop production

With certain PFAS-based plant protection products facing bans across the EU in the near future, crop production is entering a new era. Join leading actors to explore practical solutions, build partnerships, and shape the future of agriculture.

The Beyond PFAS Pesticides Summit is more than a research conference. It's a cross-sector and multi-actor meeting point for industry leaders, advisors, policy makers, farmers, and researchers to share knowledge and build new partnerships. Together we aim to develop practical, future-oriented solutions that are essential to securing a competitive and resilient crop production industry in Europe.

Why be a sponsor of the Beyond PFAS Pesticides Summit?

As a sponsor you gain visibility in a highly relevant setting – and direct access to the people shaping the future of European crop production.

You will have the opportunity to:

- Engage with key stakeholders
- Build collaborations and sponsorships
- Showcase your solutions to an international audience

Who will you meet?

- Decision-makers and leaders from the crop production sector
- Researchers from Europe
- Companies working with crop protection, biotech, seeds, breeding, ingredients, and raw materials

- Industry associations and policy makers
Position your company at the centre of industry development in a forum focused on new solutions to the crop production industry in Europe.

The summit is hosted by SEGES Innovation, the leading agriculture knowledge and innovation center in Denmark.
